The Center for Public Health Practice and Research is hiring two Masters Level Graduate Assistants. Center Graduate Assistants will assist both the Director and Assistant Director with Center activities such as but not limited to: community engagement, program planning, data analysis, report design and editing, Public Health Young Adults Day, administrative work associated with the Georgia Rural Health Association, and conference travel. These positions will also work closely with other JPHCOPH faculty on Center supported grants and contracts.

The Center for Public Health Practice and Research is housed within the Jiann-Ping Hsu College of Public Health and engages in efforts to improve the health status of rural and underserved communities through provision of high-level technical assistance, education, public health research, and program/process evaluation services to public and rural health agencies, organizations and other business models. Consistent with the College’s mission, the Center seeks to be recognized as a leader in the area of outreach to the public health practice community by serving as a valuable resource to rural and underserved populations in the Southeast.

Required Qualifications
- Bachelor’s degree in Public Health or related field
- Willingness to travel as needed
- Excellent verbal/written communication skills
- Motivation, enthusiasm, and attention to detail
- Self-starter, professionalism and willingness to learn

Preferred Qualifications
- Proficiency with Excel and SPSS
- Experience with Constant Contact
- Admission into Master of Public Health or Master of Health Administration program

Stipend
The stipend for this position is $7,750 per academic year (fall and spring), paid monthly according to the schedule developed by the Graduate School.

Application
Assistantships are awarded on a competitive basis. Applicants must be enrolled in a graduate program of study at Georgia Southern University. Standard employee benefits are not provided for graduate assistantship positions. All applicants must have an application completed with the College of Graduate Studies in order to be hired. In addition to this requirement, please submit a cover letter and resume to: Angie Peden, apeden@georgiasouthern.edu.